Present—Messrs. Gilligan, Taylor, McClelland, Jefferson, Burton, Watkins, Ripley, Durrett, Stancliffe, Atkinson, and Gault.

The journal of the previous session was read and approved.

Mr. Ripley was chosen chairman pro tem.

The following messages were received from his Honor, the Mayor, read, and referred to the street committee of the western district, to-wit:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Louisville, Ky., Sep. 5, 1853.

To the General Council:

By a resolution of your honorable body, the Mayor is requested to urge the contractors to a speedy completion of their contracts for grading and paving High street, from Twelfth to Bridge street.

These contracts have been made for some time and confirmed by your honorable body, but no grade has been given or adopted, and consequently nothing has been done.

The General Council, by resolution, authorized the Mayor to sell the plank on this part of the street to the best bidder, and report the same to their body for confirmation.

This has been done, but no final action had, and in this way of course there could be no commencement of the work.

The gentleman who purchased the plank subject to the approval of the Council, informs me that unless he can get them, and that in a short time, he will be compelled to make other arrangements. I hope, therefore, that your Council will determine at its present session upon something definite.

Respectfully, JAMES S. SPEED, Mayor.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Louisville, Ky., Sep. 5, 1853.

To the Board of Common Council:

I herewith return an ordinance entitled an ordinance to grade and pave West street, from Walnut to Chestnut street, which passed the General Council at its last session and originated in your Board.

I have examined and can find no record evidence that this street has been declared a public thoroughfare, and therefore ask the rejection of the ordinance. Respectfully,

JAMES S. SPEED, Mayor.

Also, the following message was received, and the vote being taken upon the passage of the ordinance referred to, the Mayor's objection to the same notwithstanding, it was rejected by the following vote, to-wit: Ayes—Mr. Watkins—1. Messrs. Burton, Durrett, Gilligan, Gault, Jefferson, McClelland, Riply, Stancliffe, and Taylor—9.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Louisville, Ky. Sept. 5, '53.

To the Board of Common Council:

I herewith return an ordinance passed by the General Council at its last session, entitled an ordinance relating to negro pens in the City of Louisville, which ordinance originated in your Board.

Section 4th of Article 6th of the City Charter provides that no person shall, without first obtaining a license from the General Council, but any person may after obtaining such license, give, make, or exhibit for money, any lecture, exhibition of any kind, &c., or keep within said city any stable, tavern, coffee-house, entertain strangers, set up any lottery or agency therefor, real estate agency or office for the sale of real estate, or place for the sale and purchase of slaves, for which licenses the Council may charge as follows, &c.

For the keeping of any office for the purchase or exchange or traffic in slaves, or firm engaged in purchasing or vending slaves as a business within said city, not less than one hundred dollars nor more than three hundred dollars.

The principle in this ordinance seems to be at war with the constitution of the State, which protects the possession of property and its disposition in its fullest sense; and negroes being recognised as property by that instrument, I am satisfied that no distinction can be drawn between that and any other.

If recognised, the doctrine asserted in the ordinance may be extended to any other or all kinds of property, and the power might be exercised by the General Council to determine who should or should not sell and dispose of dry goods, groceries, lands, tenements, &c., or who should or should not establish or conduct pork houses, or perform any other act which is susceptible of being licensed.

The various pursuits that are liable to license, are enumerated in the City Charter, and the amount of license or rather its minimum and maximum limits specified. As well, therefore, might the General Council undertake to close all others as the one referred to in the ordinance.

As it is recognised as a legitimate pursuit by Legislative enactment under the constitution of the State, and as no power has been vested in the General Council to contravene and exceed the law which gives it validity, it appears to me obvious, that no such ordinance can be enforced, or should be passed without a special act for that purpose, which proposition must first be submitted to the people, and when passed by the Legislature it is questionable if the power to suppress the traffic against which the ordinance is aimed would be sustained by the Court of Appeals.

When any kind of pursuit, and especially those which are licensed, becomes obnoxious to abatement or penality as a nuisance, the law provides for the same, and an ordinance already exists to punish the offender or prevent the recurrence of the offence.

If in the prosecution of the business contemplated by the ordinance under examination an offence be committed, such as would or ought to render the offender punishable for nuisance, the mode of punishment is plainly pointed out.

With all due respect, therefore, to the honorable the Board of Common Council, I beg leave to return the ordinance relating to negro pens in the city of Louisville with my objections.

Respectfully, JAMES S. SPEED, Mayor.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞"A bad penny will return," and so will a good bank note; but the first is an outcast, and returns begging, the second can go on, while the latter returns only to be redeemed, and then, with new life, it starts again upon its "merry round." Everybody is glad to see its "face." Wherever it goes it is greeted with a hearty welcome, and, unlike a "poor relation," everybody hates to have it go. It sometimes gets into bad company, but "its only by compulsion." It is a great philanthropist, and goes about doing good. It feeds the hungry, clothes the naked, builds railroads and steamboats, and Webster & Brother, No. 479 Main street, take it for Daguerreotypes. s29

☞When one man will do your work for but little more than half the price that others would charge you, and when you know that he will do it as well, interest and good sense plainly point to him when you have need of work in his line. Accordingly, when you want a Daguerreotype, you will of course employ GARPENTER & HARRIS, 401 Main street, between Third and Fourth, who will charge you but a dollar for a picture in the same description of case for which others charge $1 50, and nothing if they do not make you as good a portrait as any one else in the city. s16

☞The following is from the principal accountant of the wealthy and highly respectable house of Messrs. Voris & Bro., of this city, and presents ONE OF THE MOST WONDERFUL CURES IN THE ANNALS OF MEDICAL HISTORY:

MR. H. G. FARRELL—Dear Sir: Actuated by a sense of gratefulness, I submit the following as an instance of the utility of your great medicine. My child, three years old, was suddenly attacked with Scarlet Fever, which, in less than six hours, prostrated it to total helplessness. The limbs became so rigid that not a joint could be bent—the flesh turned black and cold and entirely deprived of feeling—the eyes dead, partially closed, and altogether blind; following this was deafness to all sound—the spine became contracted and so curved that, when lying on its back, the head and heels only touched. Indeed the child presented every appearance of being dead. Immediately on the attack, my family physician was called in, and for three weeks he laboured to restore it to feeling, but all in vain, although it was blistered a dozen times and various rubefacient Liniments applied. A consultation of physicians was then held, but to no purpose. The case was then brought before the Medical Society, but nothing could be suggested which had not already been done, and the doctor then said it could do nothing more. We then commenced applying your Liniment freely over the entire length of the spine, and you may imagine a parent's joy when, after a few applications, returning animation was apparent, and it rapidly recovered, with the exception of the sight, which did not become perfect for near a month. The child is now healthy and robust as can be. Five other cases of the same kind occurred previously in my neighborhood, all of which died, which I have no doubt if your Liniment had been used they would have recovered. HENRY G. GLELAND.

Peoria, March 1, 1851.

A Hard Lump on a Horse's Breast.

MR. H. G. FARRELL: I have used your Arabian Liniment with gratification in several cases, the most remarkable of which was a large lump that appeared on my horse's breast. It was very hard, appearing to be hard gristle. It remained for nearly a year, when I applied your Liniment, one bottle of which entirely cured it. I can recommend it as the best Liniment I ever used. JOHN CRAWL.

Peoria, Feb. 20, 1846.

Look out for Counterfeits.—The public are cautioned against another counterfeit, which has lately made its appearance, called W. H. Farrell's Arabian Liniment, the most dangerous of the counterfeits. Persons buying the name of Farrell, may will buy it in good faith, without the knowledge that a counterfeit exists, and they will perhaps only discover their error when the spurious mixture has wrought its evil effects.

The genuine article is manufactured only by H. G. Farrell, sole inventor and proprietor, and wholesale druggist, No. 17 Main street, Peoria, Illinois, to whom all applications for agencies must be addressed. Be sure and get it with the letters H. G. before Farrell—thus, H. G. FARRELL'S—and his signature on the wrapper; all others are counterfeits.

Sold by the dozen, gross, or single bottle at the United States Medical Agency, No. 90 Fourth street, R. H. Hayden, agent, and by regularly authorized agents throughout the United States.

☞Price 50 cts per bottle, and $4 per bottle.

AGENTS WANTED in every town, village, and hamlet in the United States, in which one is not already established. Address H. G. Farrell, as above, accompanied with good reference as to character, responsibility, &c.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.—Died on the 5th inst., at his residence in Shelby county, Ky., Maj. Bland Ballard, in the 95th year of his age.

The deceased was born near Fredericksburg, Virginia, in August, 1759, and came to Kentucky in 1779. He immediately joined the regular militia which was kept up for the defence of the country, and served on Bowman's campaign in 1779. He was with Gen. George Rogers Clarke in his expedition against the Pickaway towns in 1781, and in it received a severe wound, from which he never recovered. Again in 1782 he was on the campaign led by Gen. Clarke, with Floyd and Logan as colonels. After performing various and important military services between 1782 and 1794, he was present under Gen. Wayne at the decisive battle fought on the 20th of August in that year, and he commanded a company in Col. Allen's regiment, under Gen. Harrison, in the campaign of 1812-13. He led the advance of the detachment which fought the first battle of the River Raisin. Here he was wounded slightly, and again very severely by a spent ball, on the 22d of January. On this disastrous occasion he was taken prisoner and suffered severely by the march through snow and ice from Malden to Fort George.

Of all the remarkable pioneer Indian fighters whose history is identified with that of Kentucky, few were more distinguished than the deceased. He was a man of wonderful physical power, of a strong native intellect, of extraordinary sagacity, and of indomitable courage. These qualities eminently fitted him for the pioneer life, and, together with the extraordinary circumstances which surrounded him, make his history one of the most romantic in the annals of Kentucky. The whole of his early life abounded in adventures and feats so marvelous that they could be scarcely credited now, were not the truth of some of them attested by others, and the whole of them supported by the deceased's own unquestioned and unquestionable veracity.

Major Ballard was an uneducated man, but we have rarely seen one who conversed more fluently or described scenes more graphically. We have often seen him on the street dressed in his buckskin hunting shirt, surrounded by crowds of men and boys listening with breathless attention to his wonderful stories. We ourselves have listened to them many an hour, and often through the livelong night without fatigue and wholly unconscious of the approach of morning.

We once heard him asked how many Indians he had killed in one day. "I kil;" said he, "six one morning before breakfast," and it was not a very good morning for the business either." This reply, given in his peculiarly business-like style, we will never forget. It we had not recurred to the question we might have thought that the old gentleman was speaking of some morning hunt for squirrels, deer, or buffalo, so singularly calm was his manner; but, on this as on other occasions, Maj. Ballard never exhibited the slightest compunctions on account of his having killed Indians. His family, and he, in his own person, had received too many injuries from the savages for him ever to feel the slightest sympathy for them. He regarded them as a faithless, treacherous race and the enemy of his own, and therefore sorrowed but little over their probable extinction. But he often spoke of some of them as brave, chivalrous, and generous, and for them expressed the warmest admiration.

The history of Maj. Ballard abounds in many thrilling adventures and anecdotes which we could relate and which might interest our readers, but which the occasion forbids. We cannot, however, close this sketch without referring to one of them.

In 1788, the Indians attacked his father's house, situated near the little fort on Tick creek, a few miles northeast of Shelbyville. The attack was made early in the morning and began by the savages shooting dead his brother Benjamin, who had gone out of the house for wood to make a fire. They then assailed the house. The inmates barred the door and prepared for defense. The father of the subject of this sketch was the only man in the house, and he and one old man were the only persons in the fort. Aroused by the guns, he snatched up his own rifle and rushed to the defense of his kindred. He fired and reloaded and fired again as he ran, with good effect. In the meantime, the Indians broke open the house and killed his father, his mother, and two sisters, and tomahawked the youngest sister, a child, who recovered. When the Indians broke into the house, his mother endeavored to escape by the back-door, but a savage pursued her and as he raised his tomahawk to strike her the subject of this sketch fired at him, not, however, in time to prevent the fatal blow, and they both fell and expired together. The Indians numbered about fifteen, but, before they completed their work of death and fled, it is supposed that the subject of this sketch killed six or seven of them.

But it was not merely as a warrior and soldier that Maj. Ballard rendered important service to Kentucky. He frequently represented the people of Shelby county in the Legislature. The State, in appreciation of his services, and to perpetuate his name, have created the county of Ballard, and already, in anticipation of his death, is his name inscribed on the beautiful marble shaft erected in her public burying ground in honor of her distinguished dead.

The generation now on the sphere of action, and the millions who are to succeed them, will have but an imperfect idea of the character and services of the bold, patriotic men who rescued Kentucky from the forest and the savage. The deceased was a fine specimen of that noble race of men. He was the last of his father's family. His brother James, the companion of his youth, and the sharer of most of his adventures and trials, preceded him but a few years. And now that he is gone, we cannot call to mind a single pioneer of Kentucky, who is left. Who shall snatch their memory from oblivion and give us a true history of Kentucky, with its pages all glowing with life-like sketches of the remarkable men who redeemed her from the savage, and with stories of adventures, more romantic than even romance itself can furnish. Without such biographies and sketches the history of Kentucky can no more be written than that of the United States without mentioning the name of Washington.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7, P. M.

The Doane trial continues. The Court permitted Bishop Doane to read the report of his Diocese, on the presentment, by way of argument in his speech on the motion to dismiss the presentment. Without deciding on this motion the Court adjourned.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 7.

In the election yesterday there is no choice for Governor by the people. Fairbanks (Whig) has a large plurality, but the Whig vote is reduced. The result will depend on the Legislature, which seems very close. The temperance question operated to such an extent that it is difficult to determine the true state of the parties.

☞ On Monday afternoon, Messrs. S. G. Henry & Co. sold at public auction a lot of ground on the Portland plank-road, below the canal bridge, 71½ feet front by 200 deep, at $16 per foot. Property in this neighborhood has increased in the last twelve months fully 50 per cent. The above was sold about a year since at $10 per foot.

TOBACCO INSPECTION IN PETERSBURG.—The inspection of tobacco in Petersburg, Va., up the September 1st, was 10,841 hhds. against 9,713 hhds. for the corresponding period of 1852. Increase, 1,128 hhds. The quantity on hand for inspection was very small.

☞ Hon J. C. Breckenridge has been invited to deliver the annual address at the Pennsylvania State Fair, which is to be held at Pittsburg.

FORGERY.—We learn from the Portsmouth (N. H.) Chronicle that Dr. Woodbury Gilman, of Epping, was arrested on Tuesday last, and taken before U. S. Commissioner, on a charge of being guilty, in connection with L. C. Godfrey, of Epping, of forging a marriage certificate and affidavit, whereby he fraudulently procured a pension for an old lady in Epping. It is said $1,200 was obtained. The hearing was adjourned till Thursday, at which time it was found that Dr. Gilman was missing, leaving his sureties to pay the sum of $2,500 forfeited for his non-attendance.

☞ It is predicted that the hop crop will be one-third short the present year. Producers in Madison county, N. Y., having contracts to deliver large lots the present fall, have been obliged to go into the market and buy up enough to make themselves good. They have paid as high as 30 and 35 cents. The English crop is also expected to be light.

SUFFERINGS AT SEA.—The Portland (Oregon) Times publishes a letter from Capt. G. J. W. Russell, written at Astoria, June 22, giving an account of the desertion from the Russian Fur Company, of three Swedes, who had been employed for three years in the service of the company at Sitka, on the Pacific. They took a canoe, and after a voyage of forty days reached Shoal-water Bay, where they were stopped by a fog. The letter says:

When found, they had been in the bay seven days—subsisting on roots and berries. They were much emaciated, and looked the perfect picture of misery and despair. One of the poor fellows, when found, was peeling the skin from off his hands and arms and eating it. Their canoe is about 18 feet in length by 3 in width; and with this they have made a voyage of over a thousand miles on one of the worst parts of the coast. They were well cared for by the citizens, and at present are comfortably situated at Chinook. Their names are Carl Gronland, Carl Westerholm, and Andrea C. Lyndfast.

SENATOR DOUGLAS IN CONSTANTINOPLE.—Hon. Stephen A. Douglas, U. S. Senator from Illinois, was in Constantinople about the 1st of August, and was to have had an audience with the Sultan, but was unable to defer his departure for Russia until the day set apart by the Sultan to receive him. A letter from Constantinople, in the N. Y. Post, however, says:

Senator Douglas, during his visit to this place, had an interview with Reschid Pacha, the present Minister of Foreign Affairs, and late Grand Vizier. Reschid Pacha is now at the head of the Sultan's ministry, and directs the present rather difficult foreign affairs of the empire. The Senator (Young America) expressed himself as highly gratified with the interview, and formed a high estimate of the character and attributes of the Pacha. He assured Reschid Pacha that American sympathies were all warmly in favor of Turkey, in her present differences with Russia, and that the people of his country regarded her cause as a most just one. In reply, the minister expressed his thanks to Senator Douglas. The agent of the Porte, who visited the United States some years, said that the Sultan and his government were much gratified by the manner in which he had been received there.

DEATH OF DR. COCHRAN.

At a meeting of the physicians of Louisville, held on the 5th inst., on motion, Dr. P. F. Pendleton was called to the chair, and Dr. B. I. Raphael appointed secretary.

The object of the meeting having been stated by the chair, it was moved that a committee be appointed to draft resolutions in conformity thereof. The following gentlemen were appointed: Drs. B. I. Raphael, Mandeville Thum, and wm. H. Miller, who, after retiring a short time, presented the following report, which was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our venerable friend and fellow-practitioner, Dr. Wm. Cochran, who departed this life after a very brief illness on the morning of the 5th inst.; and in view of the many virtues which endeared him to all who knew him, therefore—

Resolved, That we deeply deplore the irreparable loss which they have sustained by this dispensation of Divine Providence, and that the secretary be directed to transmit them a copy of these proceedings.

Resolved, That these proceedings be published in the daily papers of the city, the Western Journal of Medicine and Surgery, and the Transylvania Journal of Medicine.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

L. P. YANDELL, Chairman.

B. I. RAPHAEL, Sec'y.

We have been requested by the agent of the public schools to direct the attention of parents and those interested to the following rule, viz:

"No pupil shall attend any school out of the district in which he resides, except by special permission of the agent and trustees of the ward where he belongs and the one which he wishes to enter."

The trustees have selected the very best teachers earnestly desire that the citizens of each ward should patron ze their own schools and thereby promote and elevate their character. J. MCBURNIE, Sec'y.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 6, 1853.

[Correspondence of the Newark Daily Advertiser.]

FLORENCE, Aug. 24.

Com. Vanderbilt's fine steam yacht North Star reached Leghorn a few days ago in the vicinity of her Mediterranean cruise. The Commodore and his party are now in this city, where he is sitting to Powers for his bust, at a cost of $1000. It is conceded that no sculptor ever produced such busts, though others may have surpassed him in some other branches of his profession. present, however, he is confessedly at the head of his profession in all respects, even in the judgment of European connoisseurs.

THE NEW UNITED STATES COIN, &c.—The Treasurer of the United States has recently received a considerable quantity of the new United States silver coin from the Philadelphia mint, which, by direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, we understand, he is ready to exchange for gold with those in Washington who desire it.

Just now there are nearly six hundred thousand dollars in the hands of the Treasurer, in this city, which, we apprehend, is a larger amount than was ever before in the hands of that officer at any one time. This accumulation probably arises from the fact that heavier disbursements at this point are now required by the law than have ever been.

Washington Union.

News from the Fishing Grounds Squadron.—An officer in the squadron writes from "Pirate's Cove, Gut of Canso," on the 19th ult., to a friend in Washington, saying that the "Gut of Canso is a narrow strait, 13 miles long, and about a mile wide, with picturesque scenery on both banks, inhabited by colonial fishermen and Micmac Indians. * * * A fisherman, bound to Portsmouth, N. H., has just boarded us (the Princeton). He hasown his cargo from the banks deep of British waters, after running all the risk of seizure and the discomforts of British surveillance. He hopes that the American Government will do something effectual and permanent towards obtaining for them those privileges in the fishing business so essential to their maintenance and the support of their families. He says the mackerel are all inside of three miles—indeed, only about one mile and a half from shore, and it is therefore impossible to get a cargo without encroaching upon the British reserves. The cruisers are continually on the alert, driving the Americans off wherever found. They have no appeal for measurement, if a cruiser says, 'Pull up your lines and go off,' the Yankee has to comply, although he may be satisfied that he is outside of three miles."

The Sultan and the United States.—Mr. Marsh, the American minister at Constantinople, on his recent return to that city from Greece, where he went about a year ago on the affairs of Dr. King, was handsomely received by the Sultan. Mr. Marsh was accompanied by the commander and officers of the Levant and by Capt. Walker, of the U. S. army, and made the Sultan a proper address, in which he gave him assurances of the entire sympathies of the President and people of the U. States in the position in which he is placed by the demands of Russia. The Sultan, in reply, expressed his satisfaction with the good feelings which exist in the U. States towards himself and his cause, and assured Mr. Marsh that it should be his constant endeavor to cultivate and strengthen them.

COMMERCIAL.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 8.

We have nothing to report in bagging and rope, sacks 30 pieces and 40 coils at 12½ and 6¾c.

There continues to be a speculative demand for coffee, and holders have advanced their rates farther. Within two weeks prices have gone up ¾c per lb. We heard of no sales of Rio, holders asking 11¼@12c. Sales of 500 bags Maracaibo at 12c, and 60 bags Laguayra at 11½; Java is held at 14c. We notice a very good demand for sugar. The sales amounted to over 100 hhds, viz: 24 hhds at 4¾c, 54 at 4¾c, 12 at 5c, and 20 at 5¼c. These prices are fully ¼c above those current a fortnight ago. Nothing doing in molasses—plantation 22@24c, sugar-house 20@30c in large lots to the trade, and 35@40c to the country.

Nothing was done in provisions. Mess pork dull at $18 25. Bacon unchanged. Some lots in from the country sold at 7¾c for prime clear sides. We hear of a contract for 1000 hogs, to be delivered in November, at $3 75 net.

Flour dull. Sales of superfine from store at $4 75; some holders are asking $5. The tendency of the market was downward. A New York circular states that the receipts at that port are 400,000 bbls less than last year. Large sales for future delivery had been made. Nothing new in grain.

Whisky is tending upward. Sales of raw at 21c, rectified 20½.

The sales of tobacco yesterday were only 26 hhds at prices ranging from $4 55 to $9 05. Sawyer, Wallace, & Co.'s monthly New York circular, dated on the 1st, says:

Tobacco has been very dull, but holders are firm. The principal transactions have been in heavy shipping qualities, at about 8c for crops round. The home demand is shortly expected, which will take off most of our cutting leaf. We are poorly supplied with leaf lugs, and advance our quotations for this description.

BARGAINS! BARGAINS!
IN READY-MADE CLOTHING.
SAMUELS, the Metcalfe st. CLOTHING business, is now offering to the trade, and public generally to those wishing to replenish their wardrobes with READY MADE CLOTHING, unprecedented saying "Selling off at Cost," as to guaranty satisfaction before leaving his establishment. His store of Clothing now on hand must be positively sold out by the 15th of August next. To be convinced of this fact it only requires a call from the public who to appeal for measurement. Call at a cruiser says, 'Pull up your lines and go off,' the Yankee has to comply, although he may be satisfied that he is outside of three miles."

The Sultan and the United States.—Mr. Marsh, the American minister at Constantinople, on his recent return to that city from Greece, where he went about a year ago on the affairs of Dr. King, was handsomely received by the Sultan. Mr. Marsh was accompanied by the commander and officers of the Levant and by Capt. Walker, of the U. S. army, and made the Sultan a proper address, in which he gave him assurances of the entire sympathies of the President and people of the U. States in the position in which he is placed by the demands of Russia. The Sultan, in reply, expressed his satisfaction with the good feelings which exist in the U. States towards himself and his cause, and assured Mr. Marsh that it should be his constant endeavor to cultivate and strengthen them.
