Acknowledgments

The material in this book was compiled from primary sources, secondary sources, and submissions from some of the descendants of these pioneering families. It would not exist without the cooperation of a number of people who took the time to correspond and share their efforts or sources with me. I cannot say how much I appreciate them. It is a real challenge to gather material from dozens of sources and evaluate its validity. However, along with this challenge came an opportunity to make new acquaintances and to make valuable genealogical information available to others. This has been very gratifying.

I would like to thank John B. Chamberlin for sparking my interest in genealogy. His enthusiastic telling of family tales played an important part in inciting me to want to pursue this project.

My deepest gratitude goes to that super lady Catherine Shabowski, who helped keep all of the correspondence and record keeping straight for Hawk Data Services. Her generosity and unselfishness are unmatched.

A note of thanks goes to those who provided important encouragement and assistance: the Chamberlin clan - especially, Phil, Terry, John, Patty, Robyn, Ted, and Jennifer; James Gorsline, and Jacquie Surface. I also would like to commend the excellent facilities and helpful staffs of the Anderson Public Library in Anderson, Indiana, and the Allen County Public Library in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

The Virginia Ancestor Series and Hawk Data Services could not have come about without the support and help of my husband, Christopher L. Hawk. His expertise with computer hardware, software, and systems has kept Hawk Data Services up and running. His other contributions are too enormous ever to be set down on paper, so I would just like to thank him for his wisdom, companionship, and love.

REGISTER STYLE FORMAT

The Virginia Ancestor Series is done in the Modified Register System Format. The register report uses a numbering system where the first person is number one, and the children are numbers two, three, four, and so on. Each descendant is assigned a number, and people that have children are given a + in front of their number so that you know to look below for more information. To see more information about a person who is listed as a child with a +, look for the same number in the next generation. To see who a person's parents are, look for the same number in the previous generation.

Abbreviations used in this report are as follows:

b. - born
bef. - before cir - circa or about
C.S.A. - Confederate States Army
C.S.N. - Confederate States Navy
d. - died
d. s. - died single d.s.p. - died without issue
U.S.A. - United States Army
U.S.N. - United States Navy

He was a cotton-mill manager in Alabama when commissioned Colonel 13th Alabama. In the Peninsular Campaign, he was wounded at Seven Pines. His arm was shattered at Antietam, and he was again wounded at Chancellorsville after succeeding to command of Archer's brigade. At Gettysburg he again started out leading his regiment, succeeded to the command of Archer's brigade, and was wounded a fourth time and captured on "Pickett's Charge." Exchanged nine months later, he was appointed Brigadier General CSA 24 May '64 and commanded both Walker's and Archer's brigades at Cold Harbor. He commanded the Military District in Augusta until the end of the war. He returned to cotton milling and manufacturing. Described as "slight in build and quiet in manner," he was a "man of gunpowder reputation," according to Bragg.
