WAITING.

I am a King. My mouth like carmot flowers
That I long to know!
Where can he come? When will he come smile.
My master, that my heart knew not?

I did not know that weeks, and months
could be so long.
I sinned beside the garden-gate,
(My eyes fixed on the distant road, by which he used to come)
And watch—and wait.

Sometimes I doze, and always do I hear,
My voice says,
"Good-bye, old Pal. We'll meet again—someday."
Then into wild fears and dreams, chase
hatchets through the night.
And no, for whom he gives my life,
placed yet almost, out of sight.

And he, that place where he has gone?
Is it far, that place where he has gone?
Shall I go very blind, or wait here, beside the garden-gate
For that "someday" he promised me?—Ethel Talbot Scarborough, in Pictorial Review.

Honors for a Brilliant Lexington Woman

The friends of Miss Mary Scrugham will be pleased, though not surprised, to learn that she has fulfilled the last requirements necessary for a doctorate at Columbia University. On February 18, in the presence of a considerable number of the heads of departments in the field of political and social science she "defended her dissertation," which has to do with the subject of the policy followed by Kentucky during the early years of 1861. It is entitled "Peace Loving Americans in 1861."

Miss Scrugham's thesis is no mile that the authorities at Columbia have seen the privilege of publishing it in the series known as "Columbia Studies in History, Economics and Public Law."

Miss Scrugham will return to Lexington within the near future. The degree of Doctor of Philosophy will probably be conferred upon her at the June commencement.

The Annual Dinner

The Louisville Herald says:

"Final arrangements have been completed for the annual dinner of the Kentucky Society, Sons of the American Revolution, which will be given Thursday evening at the Pendennis Club, in honor of Washington's birthday. Mr. Avery MacKaye, distinguished dramatist and poet, will be the guest of honor. Mr. MacKaye will be the speaker of the evening, following which his play, "Sam Average," will be presented by the University of Louisville Players, under the direction of Mr. Boyd Martin. The cast includes Miss Ruth Wilson, Mr. Lee Thurmond and Mr. Alexander Thompson Jr. The play is a little classic and is called by Mr. MacKaye "a drama in silhouettes."

"Handsome trinkets will be presented to the members of the society who served with the colors during the World War. In addition, there will be installation of a large class of new members.

"The attendance at the dinner promises to break all records of the society, and there will be many out-of-town members."

Admiral Bayly at Newport

Admiral Sir Lewis Bayly, of the British navy, is visiting Newport, R. I., as the guest of Rear Admiral and Mrs. William S. Sims, and arrived Monday morning. He is accompanied by his niece, Miss Violet Vereers and a round of entertainment has been planned in their honor. On Monday evening Admiral and Mrs. Sims gave a dinner for Miss and on Tuesday afternoon Capt. Joel R. Pringe, U. S. N., and Mrs. Pringle will give a reception for the visitors at their cottage in Rhode Island avenue. Tuesday evening the visitors will again be dinner guests of Admiral and Mrs. Sims and on Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Sims will give a reception for them at the War College. Admiral Bayly and his niece will be at Newport for three days.

A number of officers of the War College went to New York to attend the dinner of the Queenstown Society at the Biltmore Saturday evening. Admiral Bayly commanded the coast of Ireland during the late war, with headquarters at Queenstown. The Queenstown Association is formed of all those officers of the United States who were at one time or another during the war stationed at Queenstown and the dinners was given in honor of Admiral Bayly and Admiral Sims. Among those from Newport to attend the dinner were Commander Walter Edwards, aid of Admiral Sims; Captains Joel R. Pringle, David Jeanneret, Ward E. Wortman, Bemyard R. Wygant, Joseph K. Taussig and Commanders Halsey Powell, David McDougall Eidderton, Wilson Brown, Robert A. Dawes, William T. Conn, Henry A. Baldridge, Neil E. Nichols.

Miss Spinney Coming Thursday

Miss Dorothea Spinney, interpreter of Classic Drama, who is to appear at the University this week, will come Thursday instead of Wednesday as at first announced.

The program will be just the same as arranged at first and all the people are invited to attend and to bear in mind the change to Thursday.

Miss Spinney will come to Lexington from Cincinnati, where she will present a Greek play at the University of Cincinnati. She has been in this country for two years, with headquarters in New York, and will be making similar trips to various organizations and clubs over the United States. Arriving Thursday morning, Miss Spinney will be at the LaSalle hotel while in Lexington.

* * *

After the play the English and Classical Clubs of the university will entertain with a tea in honor of Miss Spinney and the visiting club women in the corridors of the administration building from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock. Miss Maybelle Gurnell will be in charge of the tea.

The committee who have the event in charge, President and Mrs. McVey, Horace Mabel Dillis, Frances Jewell, Josephine Stinsell, Maybelle Gurnell, Mrs. William Mitchell, Mr. Carol Rash, Mr. Enoch Graham and Prof. Edward P. Farquhar, are planning a dinner for Thursday evening in honor of Miss Spinney.

The Annual Colonial Party

The faculty of Hamilton College entertained Monday evening with the annual colonial party for the lectured and day students. The spacious dining hall was the scene of the festivity and it was in most beautiful and artistic decorations of flags, plants, flowers, portraits of George and Martha Washington and other personages of that period.

The girls were all dressed charmingly in colonial costumes and the party opened with a grand march, led by Miss Frances Tate, who represented Colonel Washington, and Miss Eugenia McPherson as Martha Washington. They were preceded by two pages. Misses Helen Gertner and Josie G. Woodard, who announced the representations by the couples as they followed the leaders into the ballroom.

The minuet was the next feature and there were twenty-two young girls in the dancing costumes who made the levels all dance with grace and skill.

An Interesting Address

"English Humorists of the 18th Century" was the subject of the extremely interesting address given at the Woman's Club Saturday afternoon by Professor Averett Seitz, member of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

It was for the regular meeting of the Department of Literature and Mrs. Preston Johnston, the chairman, presented the most able and interesting Mr. Seitz with gracious cordiality.

Mr. Seitz is an Englishman who has not been living in this country a great while and this was his first appearance before the club. In spite of the weather quite a number were present and all were delighted with his address. He established the shades of meaning between wit, humor and joking, and a point made was that the Americans have got into the English people their own sense of humor and the English have that same opinion of the Americans.

Several of the most illustrious of the English humorists were mentioned and noted examples of their work cited. Oliver Goldsmith, Addison, Shenstein, Steele and others. Some of the best of the humorists of England, the speaker said, are really Irish or of Irish ancestry.

After the program there was a club tea in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Seitz.

Miss Virginia Dale was in charge, the tea table was decked with flowers and candles and tea and little cakes were served.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrup, and costs about 1/2 as much. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real healing power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for four times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation takes right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so promptly and easily that it is really astonishing.

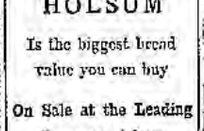

A day's use will speedily overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

YEGGS BUNGLE JOB.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 21.—Yeggmen blew the safe of Hyak Dyes and Company's shoe store, South Fourth street, some time between Saturday night and Sunday morning, but bungled the job and failed to get into the strong box, where several thousand dollars, Saturday's receipts, were kept. The burglars also overlooked several hundred dollars in Liberty Bonds belonging to employes which were in a drawer of a desk near the safe. Their only loot was about fifty taken from a desk cash drawer.
